1
Camden artist Antonia Munroe's hand-stenciled linen tablecloth takes inspiration from Indian block prints and the midcoast's seaside palette. $495. antoniatextiles.com

2
Give your fern or jade plant a pretty perch with Elizabeth Benotti's Eliot-made hanging porcelain planter. $68. elizabethbenotti.com

3
Replace just about every hand tool in the garden shed with Pownal blacksmith Nicholas Wicks Moreau's serrated stainless-steel Hori Hori knife. $75. wicksforge.com.

4
Ellsworth's Stephanie Hare experiments with fibers to create handmade paper with a subtly woven surface that's satisfying to write on. From $15 for 10 sheets/envelopes. sharestudios.me

5
Corral tabletop piles, or serve tea, with Lauren Beveridge's Lincolnville-made cotton-rope trays accented with removable Baltic-birch bases and shiny copper handles. From $125. scoutandbean.com

6
Create florist-level arrangements with Portlander Mimi Olins's stoneware vase. The secret? A removable "frog" that styles stems just so. $85. softsetceramics.com

7
South Portland's Molly Holmberg Brown calls on her geography studies to create luminous monoprints of the Maine coast. Customize with a house or boat in a special spot. $125 for a 10-by-10-inch print. mollymaps.com

8
Ghanian Adinkra symbols of security, unity, and endurance embellish colorful laser-cut felt coasters by Westbrook's Ebenezer Akakpo. $10 each. shopmainecraft.com
